Joint corona relief work of the government and voluntary organization

Joint initiative of voluntary organization and district administration can play a vital role in providing food materials to needy and destitute families among the marginalized community to protect them from difficulties in lockdown period. Ran Singh Parmar, National President of Ekta Parishad, who is coordinating the relief work of organization at national level, pointed out the emergency need of providing food support to destitute families, who have lost their wages due to the lockdown; through limited resources of organization.

In this conjunction, a team of MGSA had a meeting with the district collector of Morena and shared the grievances of destitute and marginalized community of Pahadgarh block, where most of the families belongs to the Sahariya tribe (a most backward schedule tribe in India) and expressed to help them in limited resource of the organization. The district collector expressed her concern and agreed for joint initiative with MGSA and Ekta Parishad in providing food materials to 10000 needy and poor families of Morena.

On 6th of May, MGSA and Ekta Parishad as well as the district administration jointly brought their food materials to Kanhar and Dhobani and the district collector along with the senior activist of Ekta Parishad Udaibhan Singh and Prafull Shrivastawa distributed food materials to 153 families in Dhobani and 257 families in Kanhar village among dalits and schedule tribe. District administration had shared flour 5 kg, rice 1 kg, soap 1 pcs, while pulse 1 kg, edible mustard oil 1 kg, salt 1 kg, spices and masks were shared by MGSA in food materials. After the distribution of the materials, district collector also discussed with the villagers and the representative of local governance about the requirement and future plan of work. Villagers raised the issue of jobs, drinking water and electricity. District collec-

The national president stated the problem of agriculture laborers and migrant stranded in outside their state and now they have return to their village. He said that the administration and voluntary organization should make joint initiative to provide food materials to marginalize in this disaster of Corona. Families dependent on farm wages could not earn money due to the lockdown period, which is resulted lack of money and grain for their survival. Although, the government has distributed the ration under the PDS, but there are other requirements for the family's food along with the ration such as oil, lentils, vegetables, salt, spices also which is not provided by the government. Therefore there is need of joint action in relief work so that together they can identify the right beneficiaries and help them. (Source: Kuldeep Tiwari)

National campaign for nutrition of children trapped in lockdown

Madhya Pradesh

Sheopur: The dark and gloomy picture of the Sheopur district was malnutrition among Sahariya tribal children before two year back. Mahatma Gandhi Seva Ashram and Integrated Child & Women department jointly have put in a lot of efforts to change this scenario which has a good impact too. But still about 40000 children out of 100 thousands children enrolled in ICDS program have less weight than the average weight. More than 1 lakh children are enrolled are registered in the ICDS program in Sheopur. We can safely say that 40% children in Sheopur district are malnourished. Most of them went with their parents outside the district and state, as their parents are migrant agricultural labourer who stranded there. The children who went with their parents could not get nutrition meals as a result they have become poor in health and close to malnutrition.

2000 families are provided nutritious food with 1 kg of Sattu (flour of fried gram) and half a kg jaggery.

More than 18 thousands Sahariya tribal families were migrated to Rajsthan with their about 5000 children, which were came back to their villages after a long advocacy efforts of Ekta Parishad, the government finally helped to bring these labourers home. By now, around 90% of the migrants have come back home. But the 21 days of the first lockdown have a huge impact on the health and nutrition of those 5000 children. Ekta Parishad along with MGSA identified the need of nutritious food for children to maintain the nutritious requirement in their body.

Among those, about 40000 children weigh less than the average weight. The major challenge here is how to get these children out of it, as per the guidelines of UNICEF. There are many programs running by the government that cater to the skill building of ICDS workers, identification of the nutritional needs, nutritious meal for children etc because there is nothing in their house to feed them because their parents could not earned money due to lock down in Corona pandemic. Whatever little they had, got spends in buying food for a couple of weeks.

Ekta Parishad has launched a campaign to fight mal-nourishment under which 4000 children will be provided with nutritious food for 2 month in the Sheopur district. In the first phase, 2000 families are provided with 1 kg of Sattu (flour of fried gram) and half a kg jaggery. In continuation of that, in phase two, children will be provided with nutritious food to restore their health. Mahatma Gandhi Sewa Ashram is working on a project called "Nutrition Prosperous" in Karahal block of Sheopur, under which not only nutritious food is being distributed but also mothers are being trained on the quantity and form of food to be provided. After a week, activist will monitor to evaluate the changes after the use of "Sattu and Gud" (fried flour of Gram and Jaggery). It should be known that MGSA has been trained about 1.5 lakhs frontline workers of ICDS and women on child nutrition under joint initiative with the government. How can you help the working class / laborers in getting their prescribed rights?

Many laws and policies have been enacted to protect the interests of the working class / workers in India, but its actual implementation has remained incomplete till now. The associates of Ekta Parishad and other organizations should come forward for the rights of the working class / workers through these laws, policies and labor institutions.

- Try to get the prescribed minimum wages to the working class / workers in your area.
- Wherever there are child laborers / laborers, must inform the labor officer about it.
- Registration of migrant labor / workers must be done at the level of local labor officer. It is the responsibility of the government to ensure the protective measures prescribed on the basis of this registration.
- If you get information about the bonded laborer anywhere in the area, cooperate with the local administration to get them free and rehabilitated.
- Work has started under MNREGA in many states. You should start working with MNREGA in your area by meeting the concerned officials. In fact, meaningful use of MNREGA should be more for the construction of ponds / ponds / canals / wells and small water conservation structures. You can encourage this work.
- In every state, schemes are run for workers / laborers of agriculture, construction and industry sectors. We should work so that information reaches the people concerned.
- Many states have separate courts for disputes related to the work of the working class / workers. We should help the affected class through appropriate lawyers for related matters.

Together with the above simple methods, we can all help the working class / workers individually and organizationally.
